WARNING TO ADVERTISERS

From time to time canvassers for unknown advertising schemes make the rounds of Alberta firms, usually with fantastic claims of thousands of paid circulation. Some of these promoters, wherever possible, accept payment in advance, although they may have no more substance to back them up than an oral arrangement with some printer to print an indefinite number of copies at some indefinite time. Community Publications, publishers of this and thirty other weekly newspapers serving communities in Alberta, has no connection with any of these schemes. We publish established weekly newspapers, with established paid circulations, only. We strongly urge Alberta businessmen, for their own protection, to advertise only in known media such as radio stations, daily newspapers, and community weekly newspapers. Avoid risking advertising money in questionable publications whose coverage is unknown.

SCOTTISH JUDGE VISITS DISTRICT

MORINVILLE. — Mrs. Alice Ross of Edinburgh, Scotland, who has just finished a lecture tour of the universities of the United States, and is now visiting her sister in Edmonton, was a Sunday visitor in Morinville, accompanied by Senator Stambaugh, and Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Pue.

Mrs. Ross has sittings in three different courts in Edinburgh, is a member of the city council and chairman of the educational committee.

She has great resemblance both in speech and manners to the late Mrs. Emily Murphy, well known Edmonton magistrate.

Mrs. Ross is a gracious lady in her 60's, has one daughter and one grandson whom she is anxious to meet upon her return to Scotland.

Her impressions of Canada are varied. She is greatly impressed by the vastness of the country, the natural wealth and beauty that abounds throughout the dominion, but on the other hand she believes that Canadians take too much for granted and do not apply the necessary force to secure the immense heritage handed to them.

Mrs. Ross believes that Canada should take the necessary steps to assure the conservation of its natural wealth against exploitation, take a mature attitude in its governmental policies both for home government and international.

The people as a whole should make it their sacred duty to guard this land by taking definite stand as individuals and force the local authorities in small municipalities as well as in the federal government to insure the welfare of all Canadians against demoralization and foreign influence.

Mrs. Ross cited the present railroad strike as an example of what inadequate law legislation could mean to a nation in case of sudden rebellion.

A tour had been arranged to visit places of interest in the district, including a trip to Sandy Lake, the Campbell oil field and stops at Morinville collieries and Sun Dance mine. However Senator Stambaugh's plane schedule forced the cancellation of a full afternoon tour.

Instead, the distinguished guests had to confine their sight-seeing tour to a visit to Morinville where they were the guests of Mrs. Rose Martel for tea and then visited the church, convent and schools, as well as a general tour of the town, before accompanying the visitors to the airport where Senator Stambaugh met Mr. Joe Dechene, well-known M.P., and left for Ottawa.

DR. MILNER ARRIVES IN ONOWAY

ONOWAY.—Residents here are very pleased to welcome Dr. Macey Milner, as the town has been without either doctor or district nurse for the past two years.

The doctor will spend at least one and possibly two afternoons a week in his office attending to calls.

Dr. Milner was born in Lacombe in 1919, was raised in Vegreville and schooled there, where he won the Provincial Scholarship for Alberta, which took him to Queen's University, Kingston, Ont. He graduated with his MDC in 1943 and interned at Ottawa Civic Hospital. Then as a medical officer in RCAMC he went over seas where he visited the U.K., Holland and Germany.

In the fall of 1946 he returned overseas with UNRRA and was made senior medical officer for his relief unit at Belsen Concentration Camp, Germany, which at that time had been converted to a DP camp of 10,000 people.

Since then Dr. Milner did post graduate work in Paris and London, returning to Alberta in May 1948, and spent some months "getting reacquainted at home" by working with various doctors in the province. He then opened an office at 11641-A Jasper Ave. in Edmonton and has practised there since June.

The community as a whole sincerely believe a doctor such as Dr. Macey Milner is greatly needed, as he will then be quite willing to attend to all inoculations and vaccinations amongst the school children as well as infants under school age. Residents should show their appreciation toward the interest he has taken in what he terms as "A lovely little town."

Will Take Months to Overcome Effects of Railway Strike

By RAYMOND ARGYLE

Canada's national railway strike has already done its damage to Alberta's economy. The national walk-out of 24,000 rail workers disrupted the economy to the point where it will be months before distributive facilities can get back to normal, with supplies moving freely to all parts of the province and country.

While Alberta wasn't the hardest hit of any province—Ontario's northland has suffered most—the giant oil, construction, meat packing and coal mining industries came almost to a halt as a result of the railway walk-out.

In the mighty Redwater oil fields 600 wells were shut down when the strike entered its third day. Drilling operations could not continue due to a shortage of rail-borne steel from the east, and the delivery of petroleum products, made impossible due to the lack of rail transportation, forced the shutdown.

Among the hardest hit financially were the oilwell drillers, who were forced to keep rigs standing by waiting for pipe. Cost of stand-by time is $500 a day.

Work was also slowed on the interprovincial oil pipeline, as there wasn't enough pipe on hand to complete the last 46 miles of the line.

With no livestock being shipped to the Edmonton packing plants, processing of meat for local consumption only could be continued.

On the farms shortages of binder twine, tractor fuel, and machine replacement parts was reported.

About 8,000 coal miners in Alberta were forced to leave their jobs as the strike continued over last weekend. Only the small mines, where coal is taken out by truck, continued to operate. Some men were kept busy at maintenance work, but the majority were laid off, with loss of production running into many thousands of tons per day.

Postal service was the most notable example of what a rail strike could do to the economy. Although buses were pressed into service, and air services were stepped up, only first class mail was delivered, and the delivery of parcels was suspended.

In the bustling construction industry shortage of supplies created slow-downs on many big projects.

No delivery of structural steel, needed for the big office and apartment buildings arising in Edmonton and Calgary, forced suspension of work in many instances.

But the far northwest—usually the most unreliable section of Canada for the maintenance of communications—suffered little in this respect as the army's northwest communication system kept messages flowing freely.

Pipeline Spreads Across Prairie

Pipeline from the Alberta oil fields to Lake Superior is spreading across the plains at the rate of a mile a day. Heavy machinery is putting the sections, welded, insulated and painted, into a shallow trench at record-making speed. Pipeline starts at Redwater, bypassed South Edmonton at the big oil refineries, and dips southeast through Cooking Lake, Hardisty, Hughenden and Provost. Pipeline will be finished in six weeks, but it will be six months before the oil is flowing.

'Dejobbed' Railroader

Nearly 200,000 Canadian railroad employees will feel something in common with the plight of an African clerk, who was dismissed from service of the Gold Coast Railways. His plaintive letter, published in a British paper, was sent to us through Nancy Coxford, local editor, Mannville Mirror, and reprinted here:

"Kind Sir—On the opening of this letter, you will behold the work of a dejobbed person and a very bewifed and much chidrenized gentleman, who was violently dejobbed in a twinkling of your goodness! For Heaven's sake, Sir, consider this catastrophe as falling on your own head and remind yourself walking home at the moon's end to five savage wives and 16 voracious children with a pocket filled with non-existent £ s. d. Not a solitary sixpence, plly my horrible stae."

"When being dejobbed I proceeded with a heart filled with misery to this den of doom, myself did greedily contemplate culpable homicide, but Him who protected Daniel safely through the Lion's Den will protect this servant in his hour of evil. As to reason given by yourself, Esquire, for my dejobment, the incrimination was laziness. No, Sir, it was impossible.

"I hope this vision of horror will enrich your dreams this night, and a good angel will meet and pulverise your heart of mill-stone so that you will awaken and with as much alacrity as may be compatible with your personal safety, hasten to rejobulate your servant and 'So more it be Amen.' Yours despairfully, Daniel Adjise."

Will German Soldiers Defend Europe?

Facing the overwhelming number of Russian divisions in Europe, the western nations have been tentatively considering the possibility of using German soldiers in the common defense of the West.

Under the pressure of the Communist threat the former enemies of Germany, despite fear of reviving German military power, are beginning to believe that the use of German soldiers is less dangerous than the possibility of Russian invasion.

The Germans, however, suggest that a genuine federation of Europe should come first and the use of the German soldiers afterwards. Prof. Carlo Schmidt, speaking as a member of the German delegation to the Council of Europe, points out that in a strong state the army is servant but in a weak state the army is master. Germany, he said, is not a strong state.

Recognizing that some of Germany's neighbors are concerned about Germany's military power, if it revives, Herr Schmidt sought to prevent this psychological disturbance to European unity by insisting that a genuine European federation, in setting up a real European army, could use Germany without danger to other nations.

Fly-Blowing The Churches

Every once in a while you run across a citizen who tries to impress you with the broadness of his religious viewpoint by taking a pot-shot at the churches of the nation.

The speaker will tell about helping other human beings in distress and exhibit every sign of an assumed superiority over those who worship in organized churches in the name of their religion.

It is rather seldom that these talkers realize that without the organized churches of the past, it is highly improbable that they would know very much about religion. It is worse than that. Without the organized churches of the past, there is doubt if our present civilization would be even vaguely as good as it is. The critics of the church are quite willing to accept the fruits of its work but they are not always just enough to give credit where credit is due.

The Great God Frank Hall

By T. W. PUE

Whenever a mere human is given the power of life and death over his fellows, he is usually deified by those whose life he threatens, or those whose life he deems to spare. Such is the case with Railway Union leader, the Great and Glorious Frank Hall.

There aren't many places in this great country of ours that are wholly dependent upon the railroads—thank Heaven, but Aitokokan and other small communities north of Fort William have no other means of securing the essentials of existence except via the railroad.

Every other area in Canada is served by road or air or boats not tied in with the transportation strike but not Aitokokan. So, if there were no trains to this point the people would starve to death. And who was it who decided whether these people would live or die? None other than the Almighty Frank Hall, dictator of Canadian Labor, who COULD have refused to let his "mercy" train through, and hence use as a bludgeon on the railroad management the lives of helpless and defenseless men, women and children, to secure his aims.

That this Great Despot chose to let these people live must be a matter of great personal satisfaction to them. That this country permits the lives of its people to be let or withheld at the whim of any man, labor leader or other, is a matter of national shame and disgrace.

Why Papers Are Late

Last week we carried on our schedule of printing Community Publications newspapers the same as any other week. But because of the railway strike, the Post Office Department was accepting for delivery only first class mail. We felt pretty certain the day the strike was called, that it would not last past the end of the week—but it did. Hence we kept papers at the plant, in their mail bags, for a few days.

We were instructed by the Edmonton Post Office to take the mail bags to Postal Terminal "A" which handles magazine and newspaper mailings, at the CNR station. Terminal "A" is operated by the Post Office Department—not the CNR—but enthusiastic pickets nevertheless refused us the right to take the mail bags to the Terminal, where they were to be weighed in, marked "Postage paid," and dispatched by Bus Express to postmasters for distribution to subscribers.

But two enthusiastic picketers refused us the right to make deliveries to His Majesty's Postal Station. If this strike keeps on much longer they will be picketing every post office. You won't be able to buy a postage stamp unless the Great Despot says you can.

Parliament Will Act

But we believe it won't be long now, until this paralysis of national life is ended. The Prime Minister gave both sides a fair proposition; they could either solve their differences on their own terms, or legislation banning this and future Public Utilities strikes would force them back to work.

Mr. St. Laurent intends to demonstrate that the Canadian people are greater and more powerful than railway tycoons or despotic union leaders who claim the power of life and death over our nation.

Scriptural Meditations

"Pray in your closet; and as you go about your daily labor, let your heart be often uplifted to God. It was thus that Enoch walked with God. These silent prayers rise like precious incense before the throne of grace. Satan cannot overcome him whose heart is thus stayed upon God."

"There is no time or place in which it is inappropriate to offer up a petition to God. There is nothing that can prevent us from lifting up our hearts in the spirit of earnest prayer."

"In the crowds of the street, in the midst of a business engagement, we may send up a petition to God, and plead for divine guidance, as did Nehemiah when he made his request before King Artaxerxes."

"A closet of communion may be found wherever we are. We should have the door of the heart open continually, and our invitation going up that Jesus may come and abide as a heavenly guest in the soul."

On Shopping

Dear Sir — Recently in your paper I read an editorial saying that people should shop in their home district. Well, I guess you are right and I would like to do that, but do you know that last Saturday I went to three stores before I could even buy a sport shirt to fit me? It's that kind of service that sends shoppers to bigger shopping centres.

In Fairness to All

Dear Sir—The article, "Religious intolerance charges are aired again in Quebec" in your Aug. 16 issue, ends rather abruptly, due to a typographical error, no doubt.

The omission of the remainder of the article, although unintentional, is unfortunate nevertheless since it could give your readers the wrong impression, especially when, according to your title, religious intolerance might appear, at first glance, to be synonymous with Quebec.

Legislators of that province have done as much as possible, I believe, to give all a law-giving body, i.e., they have granted all religious minorities the right to religious freedom including the practice of proselytizing. In all fairness, I believe this fact should have been included in your article.

In these days, when co-operation between all Canadians, irrespective of creed or racial origin, is especially essential for the common good, such incidents should be viewed in their true light as isolated, regrettable cases of lack of restraint and of more zeal than good judgment on the part of some street preachers.

It may very well be, and justly so, that a number of citizens of these communities strongly resent an implication that they are lacking in religious instruction.

Juke Box Curse

The modern inventions that do the most harm to the railroads aren't buses, trucks or airplanes. They're juke boxes and radios.

We railroad men have to work all night and try to sleep all day. But how can you sleep at three in the afternoon with some crazy juke box singing Sam's Song? Juke boxes cause loss of sleep, make railroaders jumpy and crabby. They get thinking the world's agin' 'em and threaten to go on strike. This causes dislocation of industry and higher freight rates. Cut out those boxes and everything will be okay.

CNR TRAINSMAN.

Falsies

The worst modern invention has nothing to do with railwaymen. They are falsies, the only real improvement on nature. The darn things often look more natural than nature's gift. What bothers me is that a particular girl is trying to take my boy friend. I know she's flat as a pancake, but how can I tell him? He'd think I'm jealous.

Copacetic

In a recent article Mr. Pue used the word "Copacetic," and it has been in my mind ever since. I hadn't read it or heard of it spoken for some five years. Is it American slang? If so how did it get into use? Just what does it mean?

R. M.

Editor's Note: The late Bill Robinson is credited with originating the catch phrase, "Everything's Copacetic." Means fine, dandy, top-o'-the-world.

Party Politics

If the Conservative party had been a believer in the free enterprise system in 1946 when the U.K.-Canada Wheat Agreement was proposed by the Gardner-Howe-McKinney Liberal triumvirate, and had taken a strong stand against the policy of bulk trading between governments, the Tories could make much political capital out of the now tragic failure of that Agreement.

As it is, Liberals, Tories, and C.C.F.s are all painted with the same brush—which led to a $357 million loss for Canadian wheat growers. The farmers' bankbooks are, however, no more in the red than our politicians' faces.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON:Mary, Mother of Jesus Is Unparalleled Story

No series of lessons on the great men and women of the Bible would be complete without study of Mary, the mother of Jesus.

However, we know very little about her from an historical standpoint. We do not know who her parents were, only that Elizabeth, the mother of John the Baptist, was her cousin.

It is a strange fact that none of the biographies we have of Jesus relate anything about the years he spent as a child and young man in Nazareth. Following the return of Mary and Joseph from Egypt with the baby Jesus, they settled in Nazareth. The next we hear of the family is upon the occasion of their trip to Jerusalem, when the boy Jesus was twelve years of age. All we know of their home life is summed up, however, in Luke 2: 54, "And Jesus grew in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and man."

Only in a home of love, helpfulness, thoughtfulness, care and consideration does a child grow in all phases—mentally, physically and socially. Thus, we can assume that the home over which Mary presided was such a home. The early years Jesus spent in the home with his mother, Mary, were very important—more important than many mothers realize, for "As the twig is bent, so grows the tree."

We are told that Joseph, the father in the home, died when Jesus was a young boy and, after that, of course, his whole training was in the hands of his mother. Hers must have been an unusual home to have produced such a spirit as his.

Oftentimes, the scriptures tell us that Mary "kept all these things in her heart." She fought her battles silently in her heart, all the way from Bethlehem to Calvary. She realized her sacred task of rearing a gifted Son for a heavy mission. Her task was to rear him to protect him, to keep him from exhaustion. However, he could not let her anxiety much as it troubled him, prevent him from doing his great work. Much as this must have disturbed her, her care of him during his exhausting ministry, her faith in him as he hung on the cross and died, have put her among the first saints of the Christian church. Unto the end, she believed in her Son.

The world today needs more mothers like Mary. There is need for mothers who put their homes first. Dr. James I. Vance, in One Hundred Best Sermons, declared: "The revival of the home is more important than the revival of the church! The home is older in God's plan. It is basic. No revival in the church gets far enough nor lasts long enough, which does not affect the home. The church is the important institution of society, save one. It is more important than the shop or the school or the state, but it is not more important than the home. The character of the church is fixed by the home. There is not much future for any church which does not have behind its end a fire-side.

Edgar A. Guest, beloved poet, has given us the formula for the ideal Christian home. Here is is: Lord, this humble house we'll keep Sweet with play and calm with sleep, Help us so that we may give Beauty to the lives we live. Let thy love and let thy grace, Shine upon our dwelling-place.

Solution To This Week's PuzzleGood Health for ALBERTANS*Proper Planning

When planning meals for the day be sure to include meals from every group in Canada's Food Rules. These groups include milk, fruits, vegetables, cereals, bread and meat. A balanced diet, which is necessary for good health, requires some of each of these foods every day.

Scientific Slimming

Keeping slim, is more than a matter of beauty. It is also a matter of health. Scientists now know that persons who are overweight are far more likely to succumb to many illnesses than those of normal weight. Controlled diet under the supervision of a physician is the best way of losing weight.

Super-Snacks

With children back at school, mothers should make sure that noontime lunches are attractively packed and well stuffed with nutritious foods. The noontime meal should be more than a snack—it should contain its full share of nutrients.

Unnecessary Deaths

Last year well over 100 Canadian children died from whooping cough. Their deaths were unnecessary because their parents failed to protect them by vaccination. Don't listen to old-fashioned tales that vaccination is dangerous. It may save your child's life. Ask your family doctor about it today.

September Dangers

Flies can be just as dangerous in September as they are in July. Make sure that insects and pests are kept out of your house right up till the cold weather starts. Flies and other insects are dangerous carriers of disease. Kill them on sight.

A Dietary Necessity

Cheese is a good source of calcium, protein, vitamin A and riboflavin. It should be included in the diet at least three times a week by itself or in combination with other foods. Cheese is always a treat. Serve it regularly for health and appetite.

It is estimated that there are more than 3,000,000 households in Canada.

Letter to Louisa'Temper Tantrums' of Boy
Problem of Alberta Girl

Dear Louisa: I am engaged to a boy who has many fine qualities, but who also has one trait that worries me a great deal.

It is that he seems incapable of discussing any question with me without getting angry. As long as I agree with everything he says, everything goes along smoothly, but when I express a different opinion he seems to take it as a personal affront and usually ends up by telling me of my shortcomings.

Of course all of this is very disagreeable and I certainly do not expect him to agree with me on everything.

I am upset over this bad habit of his that I am seriously thinking of calling the whole thing off. What would you advise?

ENGAGED.Answer:

It all depends on whether you will be happier with him, regardless of this annoying trait, or without him altogether.

Marriage with him will probably mean a series of temper tantrums unless you decide to become a rubber stamp and outwardly agree with everything he says or does. Some women seem to find such an existence very pleasant as long as they get the other things they want, and these are the women who are usually shorthanded.

Others, however, find it hard to say that a color is white if it looks grey to them or that they like the seashore better if they really prefer the mountains. From your letter I judge that you fit in with the second group and it may pay you to look around a while longer before you sign up with this boy for life.

LOUISA.

Dear Louisa:

I have married into a family of super-housekeepers. My mother-in-law and two sisters-in-law keep spotless houses with everything in place and the children either confined to their playroom or outdoors. They work at housekeeping practically all of their working hours and have very little time to give to outside interests.

I like for things to be clean, but I also like to take a part in community affairs. Don't you think that housekeeping can be carried too far?

YOUNG WIFE.Answer:

There is a happy medium in keeping house as well as everything else. No one enjoys living in a cluttered up, dusty house, but it is almost as bad to live in one when you feel that everything must be kept exactly in place and you are afraid to come in the front door or walk on the rugs.

Keep your home clean but don't give it all of your time.

20th Century FARM NEWS

First Harvesters Arrive From East on Prairies

The first forerunners of the annual east-west harvest workers arrived on the prairies last Saturday and more are expected this week.

According to Fred J. White, Regional Superintendent of the Unemployment Insurance Commission, plans for the annual harvest movement have all been completed and the movement of eastern men to the western harvest fields will begin on a large scale, Aug. 31.

Daily arrivals in Winnipeg, according to Mr. White, should number about 125 to 150 per day. That number will probably be increased the last week of August as the demand for harvest help increases and provided, of course, that men are available in eastern Canada.

According to Mr. White's latest information a total of 2,400 men will be required to harvest grain in the prairie provinces this fall.

Current reports on eastern labor conditions indicate that there is heavy demand from logging companies in Ontario and Quebec for workers suitable to their needs. This may reduce the number of potential harvesters very slightly but Mr. White gave assurance that National Employment Service offices will be able to meet the western demand.

One factor, however, which farmers must consider if they experience any delay in getting harvest help promptly is that harvesting is likely to start almost simultaneously in the three prairie provinces. Ordinarily, according to Mr. White, the Manitoba crop is ready for harvest a week or ten days before the Alberta crop is ready.

This year it is anticipated that crops will ripen in the three prairie provinces at nearly the same time. Mr. White anticipates that this condition will result in a heavy demand for harvest help. Despite this fact, he is quite optimistic that the National Employment Service will be able to meet the demand.

Group To Study Prairie Farm Act

The Alberta Federation of Agriculture as a result of numerous complaints that have been reported to its office has appointed a committee to make a careful study of the rules and regulations under the Prairie Farm Assistance Act and their application.

The committee held its first meeting in Edmonton on August 8. This meeting was in the nature of a preliminary survey of the Act and regulations. The members also planned what steps should be taken in carrying out its work as effectively as possible. It is planning two meetings during the fall months, one to be held in Calgary and the second at Edmonton.

In the meantime the committee is anxious to receive suggestions and advice from interested parties throughout the country. Any submissions made in this regard should be made to the members of the committee or direct to the Federation office, 515 Lougheed Building, Calgary.

The committee is being chaired by Mr. Roy C. Marler, president of the AFA. The other members are Mr. George Tindall, Jr., of Falynn and Mr. Jake Frey from Arneson. Mr. J. R. McFall is acting as secretary.

It is hoped that such an approach to this problem will help to remove injustices where they may or do occur and will also help to clear up any misunderstanding of the Act and its regulations.

590 Entries Received For '50 Barley Contest

Five hundred and ninety entries have been received in the 1950 National Barley contest, Saskatchewan leading the three western provinces with 250.

From Manitoba there are 222 and 108 from Alberta.

Total entries are below the number last year. A late seeding season over all the grain growing area of the prairies and in Manitoba the latest on record, has perhaps been the main reason for the decrease.

The deadline date for making entries was advanced two weeks to July 15 but generally the crop is from three weeks to a month late.

Director of Barley Improvement Institute in charge of the contest, T. J. Harrison, says the likely chief reason for the reduced entry list is that experienced barley growers know they are not so likely to produce high quality malting barley from late sown crops. The odds are too much against it.

Important for School Students To Have Best Possible Health

It is most important that children start the new school year in the best possible physical health, according to officers of health.

This is a great advantage, first of all, in that children who are in good health find it easier to stand the stresses and strains of an active and difficult school year. It is also important in that they will be in better condition to withstand minor infections and ailments to which they will be exposed through associating with other children from a great variety of families.

The two most common defects that were observed during the past school year were carious teeth and anemia. Many parents feel that baby teeth do not require much care. However, if we remember that many of the teeth found to have cavities at the ages of six and seven years should normally last until 12 years of age or even longer, it would seem that even longer, to such defects will do much to enable the child to maintain a better standard of nutrition.

With regard to anemia, your health unit had a careful estimation made of the iron content of the blood of 76 children from Leduc school in June, 1950. The results showed that 17 per cent of these children had an insufficient amount of iron in their blood, resulting in the majority of instances in decreased endurance of physical effort and in some cases of a lowered vitality and increased difficulty in performing the numerous tasks required of them in school. The causes of anemia are many but probably the most noteworthy is insufficient intake of iron-containing foods such as green leafy vegetables, liver, eggs, lean meats, oatmeal porridge, etc. Another cause believed to be important is the occurrence of frequent infections during the winter months or long continued infections such as occur in children with abscessed teeth, chronic infections of the ears, etc. Then it becomes important to make certain in every instance that the child is helped to recover from such infections as quickly as possible and is brought back to a normal state of health through special treatments and the maintenance of an adequate diet.

Whenever parents have reason to suspect that their child is not in good physical health, an early visit to the family doctor or to the health unit office might save much hardship in future months.

Farmers' Union Board Holds Meeting

A meeting of the board of directors of FUA, District Six, was held in the Town Hall at Chipman on Monday, August 14th. Board members in attendance were A. Milasap, R. Koenig, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Jackman, Ornest Tropak, Wm. Uterchutz, Orest Farion, S. A. Sanford and W. G. Ostashek.

Financing of sub-districts came in for considerable discussion and a motion calling for a district dues refund of 10 cents to each respective sub-district was carried, effective as of Nov. 1st. Resolutions on amendments to the County Act and the Municipal District Act were carried. Mr. A. Milasap of Lamont was chosen district delegate to the 1950 annual provincial convention in December, with Mr. Wm. Unterschultz of Fort Saskatchewan as alternate delegate. The district executive was appointed as a delegation to interview the provincial executive, if deemed necessary, in order to carry out the mandate of the district convention, with respect to AFA constitutional violation.

Some discussion centred around recent changes in the act regarding electrical wiring, but no concrete action taken. The board re-hired Mr. Leonty of Shalaka, as 1950-51 secretary-treasurer, and chose R. Koenig of Lamont to the position of assistant secretary.

Meeting adjourned at 10:30 p.m. Next meeting is to be held at the call of the president.

A Message from the Municipal District Office of Sturgeon:

Reasons for Establishing T.B. Restricted Area in Municipal District of Sturgeon No. 90

Both the Dominion Department of Agriculture and the Alberta Department of Agriculture are anxious that all of Alberta be petitioned by next Spring to become a T.B. Restricted Area. Also some of the farmers in this district have requested the Council to have this area designated a T.B. Restricted Area. This is very important to maintain our domestic and export markets, as well as for public health reasons. Last year the United States' authorities tightened up their regulations so that now only breeding stock from T.B. restricted areas and T.B. accredited herds can cross the line. Feeders and cattle for immediate slaughter go across as range cattle under easier regulations, but some people in the United States want to have these cattle to come only from T.B. Restricted Areas. If this happens, it would be disastrous to the Alberta cattle market.

The following are some of the other reasons why tuberculosis should be eliminated from Alberta herds:

1.—Being transmissible to man, bovine tuberculosis is a menace to public health through contact with diseased animals or consumption of infected animal products. Children are very susceptible to cattle T.B. and in 1949 one child in Alberta died of this disease. The infection was picked up through raw milk.

2.—Animal wastage usually undetected in unsupervised herds until disease has ruined the entire herd.

3.—Tuberculosis animals, regardless of breed, type, sex or age, are usually worth only what the carcass will bring on slaughter for food purposes or fertilizer.

4.—With present day activity in the cattle trade, the presence of tuberculosis in Alberta herds constitutes a continuous menace to valuable disease-free herds.

5.—The prosperity of the Alberta Livestock Industry depends upon being able to dispose of surplus healthy livestock and livestock products in foreign markets. Unless Alberta cattle are free of disease, particularly tuberculosis and brucellosis, they are not eligible for export, except for purposes of immediate slaughter.

Testing of herds is done by Dominion Veterinarians free, with no cost to the owner, and compensation is paid for reactors—$100 for purebreds, and $40 for grades, plus the carcass value, so the owner does not have a heavy loss if infection is found in his herd.

To become a T.B. Area, 66.2-3% of the cattle owners must petition the Municipality, so see your Councillor or the Municipal Office, who will supply you with the necessary petition forms.

ART WALTERS,
Sec.-Treas M.D. Sturgeon No. 90

DEMAND FOR CATTLE-TB ACTION RISES IN STURGEON MUNICIPALITY

Steps are being taken to have the Municipal District of Sturgeon designated as a TB restricted area, according to A. Walters, secretary-treasurer.

Last week Mr. Walters said that this "is very important to maintain our domestic and export markets, as well as for public health reasons." He added that "last year U.S. authorities tightened up their regulations so that now only breeding stock from T.B. restricted areas and T.B. accredited herds can cross the line."

Mr. Walters said that "both the Dominion Department of Agriculture and the Alberta Department of Agriculture are anxious that all of Alberta be petitioned by next spring to become a T.B. restricted area."

Some farmers in Sturgeon district have been urging council to declare the district such an area.

The secretary's statement pointed out that U.S. may allow only cattle that come from such areas to enter the States, and it is therefore vitally important for all Alberta to become a T.B. restricted area.

He pointed out some of the following reasons why tuberculosis should be eliminated from Alberta herds:

1. It is a menace to public health, and can be picked up through raw milk.

2. The disease has ruined entire herds.

3. Such animals are worth only what the carcass will bring on slaughter for food purposes or fertilizer.

4. Infected herds are a menace to disease-free herds.

5. Prosperity of Alberta industry depends on continual exports, and animals must be free of disease if exporting is to continue at a high level.

Testing of herds is done by Dominion veterinarians, and no cost to the owner. Compensation is paid for reactors—$1.00 for purebreds, and $4.00 for grades, plus the carcass value.

To become a T.B. area, two-thirds of cattle owners must petition the municipality. Individual councillors, or the municipal office, can supply cattle owners with the necessary petition forms.

GAS RESERVES

One estimate places Alberta's gas in excess of 100,000,000,000 cubic feet, enough to supply local needs for generations and permit export.

The Massey-Harris No. 26 Self-Propelled Combine

Self-propelled combining is the ideal way to harvest. It saves labor and time, offering unequalled harvesting economy. Just think of it, a single rugged motor propels the machines and powers all working parts—and does it on about the fuel needed to operate separate tractor and combine motors. All because the No. 26 has a low centre of gravity and a heavy duty, six-cylinder motor, it can be used on a rolling land and safely driven over contour-planted acres. Like all Massey-Harris equipment, it is built to exacting standards and is thoroughly field-proven.
